VENERABLE EUTHYMIOS THE GREAT

& TWELFTH SUNDAY OF LUKE

NEW-MARTYR ZACHARIAH OF MOREA

RESURRECTIONAL APOLYTIKION (Tone 1)

While the stone was sealed by the Jews, and the soldiers were guarding Thy most pure body, Thou didst arise on the third day, O Savior, granting life to the world. For which cause the heavenly powers cried aloud unto Thee, O giver of life. Glory to Thy Resurrection, O Christ, glory to Thy kingdom, glory to Thy providence, O Thou Who alone art the lover of mankind.

APOLYTIKION OF ST. EUTHYMIOS (Tone 4)

Be glad, O barren one that hast not given birth; be of good cheer, thou that hast not travailed; for a man of desires hath multiplied thy children of the Spirit, having planted in them piety and reared them in continence to the perfection of the virtues. By his prayers, O Christ God, make our lives peaceful.

APOLYTIKION OF SAINTS PETER AND PAUL (Tone 4)

O foremost in the ranks of Apostles, and teachers of the world, Peter and Paul, intercede with the Master of all to grant safety to the world and to our souls the great mercy.

KONTAKION OF THE PRESENTATION OF CHRIST (Tone 1)

Thou, O Christ God, Who by Thy Birth, didst sanctify the Virgin's womb, and, as is meet, didst bless Simeon's arms, and didst also come to save us; preserve Thy fold in wars, and confirm them whom Thou didst love, for Thou alone art the Lover of mankind.

Nothing, whether it is good or bad, happens to a person by blind chance. There is a provident God who steers the affairs of the world, and with each of us there is a Guardian who does not miss anything, and who watchfulness never relaxes or grows weak.

SALVATION

Archbishop PAUL of Finland

What is salvation, which is so much talked about but can be interpreted in so many different ways?

Let us start with the words of the Apostle: "all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God." (Rom 3:23) Sin, as violation of God's will, separates man from God, from His glory, and thus brings its own punishment.

God accepts fallen man, however, for he was ransomed not "with silver or gold, but with the precious blood of Christ." (1 Pet 1:18-19)

Nevertheless, acceptance and redemption do not imply a general absolution granted to all mankind, but rather an opportunity given to each person individually to ask for mercy and receive forgiveness for his sins. This is in conformity with the gift of free will given to man.

The part played by man's free will in salvation was shown at Calvary in the different fates of the two evildoers who were crucified with Christ. One of them, the Gospel tells us, "railed at him." The other one repented of his sins and prayed: "Jesus, remember me when you come into your kingdom." In answer he was promised: "Truly I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise." (Lk 23:39-43) Christ's death brought forgiveness and acceptance to the malefactor who repented.

The different fates of the crucified evildoers and the decisive role of repentance in man's salvation are indicated in the form of a cross known in Karelia: one end of the slanting bar points upwards, to Paradise, and the other downwards, to perdition.

The evildoer hanging on the cross repented at the last moment, and what remained unfinished after his conversion was completed by Christ's redemptive death. But in the case of those who remain in this life, repentance must be followed by amendment of their ways. Following his very first sermon, St. Peter's listeners asked, "What shall we do?" "Repent," St. Peter replied, "and be baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of your sins, and you shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." (Acts 2:37-38)

This happens all the time. In Holy Baptism a man is born anew "of water and the Spirit." This is followed by walking "in newness of life" (Rom 6:4) towards the given goal to "be holy yourselves in all your conduct." (1 Pet 1:15)

Although sin has corrupted human nature, man still bears within him the image of God, albeit tarnished by sin. In becoming man, Christ "emptied himself, taking the form of a servant, being born in the likeness of men." (Phil 2:5-8) He became like us men in order to make us, in turn, "partakers of the divine nature." (2 Pet 1:4) Thus Christ became our Saviour not only because "upon Him was the chastisement that made us whole" (Isaiah 53:5) but also because "His divine power granted to us all things that pertain to life and godliness." (2 Pet 1:3) In other words, Christ does not only offer us the forgiveness of our sins, but He also gives His Divine power for our use and for our development so that we might not be "ineffective or unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ." (2 Pet 1:8)

In the services before Christmas the following line occurs repeatedly in the hymns: "Christ shall be born, raising the likeness that fell of old," restoring the tarnished image of God in man to its original brightness.

Thus our salvation begins when we receive forgiveness for our sins in Holy Baptism, and indeed many times again later in Confession, the sacrament of repentance or washing with tears. This is followed by new efforts, renewed through the Holy Spirit, to live in Christ as a member of His Body, the Church. The goal of this life is to try to be pure in heart and so to "see God" (Mt 5:8) in the Holy Spirit.

According to a formulation by Bishop Theophan the Recluse, we are saved "by the good will of the Father through the merits of the Son by the grace of the Holy Spirit." It is peculiar to Orthodox services that nearly all of the prayers end with praise to the Holy Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.

THE EPISTLE

(For St. Euthymios)

The saints shall be joyful in glory. Sing unto the Lord a new song.

The Reading from the Second Epistle of St. Paul to the Corinthians. (4:6-15)

Brethren, it is the God Who said, "Let light shine out of darkness," Who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ. But we have this treasure in earthen vessels, to show that the transcendent power belongs to God and not to us. We are afflicted in every way, but not crushed; perplexed, but not driven to despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; struck down, but not destroyed; always carrying in the body the death of Jesus, so that the life of Jesus may also be manifested in our bodies. While we live we are always being given up to death for Jesus' sake, so that the life of Jesus may be manifested in our mortal flesh. So death is at work in us, but life in you. Since we have the same spirit of faith as he had who wrote, "I believed, and so I spoke," we too believe, and so we speak, knowing that He Who raised the Lord Jesus will raise us also with Jesus and bring us with you into His presence. For it is all for your sake, so that as grace extends to more and more people it may increase thanksgiving, to the glory of God.

THE GOSPEL

(For the Twelfth Sunday of Luke)

The reading from the Holy Gospel according to St. Luke. (17:12-19)

At that time, as Jesus entered a village, He was met by ten lepers, who stood at a distance and lifted up their voices and said, "Jesus, Master, have mercy on us." When He saw them He said to them, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." And as they went they were cleansed. Then one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, praising God with a loud voice; and he fell on his face at Jesus' feet, giving Him thanks. Now he was a Samaritan. Then Jesus said, "Were not ten cleansed? Where are the nine? Was no one found to return and give praise to God except this foreigner?" And He said to him, "Rise and go your way; your faith has made you well."

Commemorations

For the servants of God that they may have mercy, peace, health, salvation and visitation, pardon and remission of sin; the Lord God remember them in his Kingdom always: now and ever, and unto ages of ages

For the Servants of God departed this life: the Lord God remember them in his kingdom always: now and ever, and unto ages of ages

Orthodox Christians
Faithful Orthodox fully participate in the celebration of the Eucharist when they receive Holy Communion in fulfillment of Christ's command to eat His Body and drink His Blood. In order to be properly disposed to receive Communion, communicants should not be conscious of grave sin, have fasted from the night before taking communion, and seek to live in charity and love with their neighbors. Persons conscious of grave sin must first be reconciled with God and the Church through the Sacrament of Penance (Confession and Absolution). A frequent reception of the Sacrament of Penance is encouraged for all.

Non-Orthodox
We welcome to this celebration of the Eucharist those Christians who are not fully united with us. It is a consequence of the sad divisions in Christianity that we cannot extend to them a general invitation to receive Communion. Orthodox believe that the Eucharist is an action of the celebrating community signifying a oneness in faith, life, and worship of the community. Reception of the Eucharist by Christians not fully united with us would imply a oneness which does not yet exist, and for which we must all pray.

Not Receiving Communion
Those not receiving sacramental communion are encouraged to express in their hearts a prayerful desire for unity with the Lord Jesus and with one another by receiving a piece of blessed bread following the dismissal prayers.

Welcome to Ss. Peter and Paul
To encourage our worship in a proper spirit of prayer and devotion, we respectfully ask you to enter the sanctuary quietly during the Divine Liturgy.
PLEASE DO NOT ENTER OR EXIT THE SANCTUARY AS
- the clergy censes the sanctuary
- the congregation is standing, or
- during the Little Entrance with the Gospel
- during the Reading of the Epistle and the Gospel
- Please enter the sanctuary upon the completion of
- the sermon
- the Great Entrance with the Holy Gifts
- the Prayers of Consecration p. 112-113
- the Hymn to the Theotokos "It is Truly Meet"
Please follow the directions of the ushers during Communion and dismissal; refrain from using cell phones in the narthex; and be considerate of those praying and converse in the hall, outside or downstairs.

Visitors
If you are visiting our parish, please let us get to know you. Complete a visitor card you will find in your pew, and drop it in the ushers tray or the collection box.
